MURDER CHARGES FILED AS RESULT OF IDENTIFICATION

BROTHER OF MAN KILLED WHEN HURLED FROM TRAIN IDENTIFIES BLACKS

With the returning of six ty-nine indictments against the trio of negroes, Sonny, Miller, Tom Henry Arm-strong and Cal English, by the Navarro county grand jury late Wednesday, the scene of the investigations of the activities of the three were shifted to Limestone county where combined, Navarro county Corsicana city police, railroad of-ficials and Sheriff A. B. McKenzie of Limestone county and his officers think that murder charges will result which may mean that the trio will be given the electric the trio will be given the electric chair.

Rufus Hunter, 22, Lawrenceburg, Tenn., youth, identified English and Miller here late Wednesday soon after his arrival in Corsicana with Sheriff McKenzie. Miller and English were placed in a room with several other blacks, and the Tennessee man immediately picked them out as being two of the negroes with whom he and his brother, Charles Hunter, 28, engaged in a fight aboard a Southern Pacific freight train near Kosse, Feb. 11, and later were robbed and thrown from the train, Charles Hunter dying with a broken neck. Another brother, Harris Hunter, was on the train, but was not present when the fight occurred. He later returned to Tennessee with Rufus Hunter. Rufus Hunter identified Tom Henry Armstrong in a Kosse hospital late Wednesday night as ing one of the negroes in the iatal fight on the train, Sheriff A. B. McKenzie stated Thursday aternoon over long distance telephone with the Dally Sun.

ENDS DIGESTIVE ILLS QUICK AND GAINS 10 POUNDS

Food does not nourish when it is not properly digested. That's why people who suffer from gas on stomach and bowels, belching, nausca, headaches, dizziness, etc., due to indigestion, often find themselves underweight, weak, with little energy and vitality.

All this is quickly changed when you start using the simple discovery known as Pape's Diapepsin. When people experience for themselves the amazing results of using these tasty tablets, they invariably feel compelled to tell others.

Miss Mary Young, of No. 63 Mill Village, Birmingham, Alabama, says: "I suffered for over two years with indigestion, gas and headaches; trying all the time to get relief by using medicines and treatments."

"Then I heard about Pape's Diapepsin and began using it. It has been a wonderful help to me. I eat pastries now without bad after-effects. How they used to make me suffer!

"Friends that I have told about Diapepsin have been helped in the same way. I have gained ten pounds since starting on it."

All druggists sell it; or if you wish to try it before buying, write "Pape's Diapepsin," Wheeling, W. Va., for a trial box, FREE.

to the whole people.

Claim Incomplete.

It is represented that this measure merely provides loans against a future obligation and that, therefore, it will cost the American people nothing. That is an incomplete statement. A cost at once arises to the people when instead of proceeding by annual appropriation the government is forced to secure a huge sum by borrowing or otherwise, especially in the circumstances of today when we are compelled in the midst of depression to make other large borrowings to cover deficits when we are compensed in the midst of depression to make other large borrowings to cover deficits and refunding operations. An increased rate of interest which the government must pay upon all long-term issues in inevitable. It imposes an additional burden of interest on the people which will extend through the whole term of loans. Some cost arises to the people through the tendency to increase the interest rates which every state and municipality must pay in their borrowing for public works and improvements, as well as the rate which industry and business must pay. There is a cost to some one through the retardation of the speed of recovery of employment when government borrowings divert the savings of the people from their use by constructive industry and commerce. those who can help themselves. In our desire to be presented to the American people as benefiting by a burden put upon the whole people, and I have many manifestations from veterans on whom the times are bearing hardly that they do not want to be respressented to our people as a group substituting special privilege for the idealism and patriotism they have rejoiced in offering to their country through their service.

Should Make No Distinction It is suggested as a reason for making these provisions applicable to all veterans, that we should not make public distinction between veterans in need and the distinction between veterans in need and the are and should be a preferred class, that a grateful country would be proud to honor with its support. Texas Mother's Lucky Find TTTHEN we find that some slight VV adjustment makes a marvelous improvement in a child we wonder why we hadn't thought before to give the child this help.

A good example is the experience of Mrs. T. N. Atchley, 2204 N. Pearl St., Dallas. She says: "My little girl was doing fairly well but I noticed she didn't eat like she should and didn't seem to have much energy.

"I wanted to do something for her, and I heard a lot about California Fig Syrup, so I gave Imogene some. She improved so much I wonder why I didn't do something for her stomach and bowels before. It relieved her sluggishness, gave her a good appetite and plenty of energy."

To point up a child's appetite, increase energy and strength, assist digestion and assimilation. there's nothing more effective than pure tered by the state. vegetable California Fig Syrup. Doc-tors advise its use to open the bowels during colds and children's diseases, or whenever bad breath, coated tongue, headaches, listlessness, etc., warn of constipation.

ENTOMOLOGIST OF STATE AGRICULTURE

T. E. HAGEN INSPECTING SHADE TREES IN EFFORTS CURB SCALE DISEASES

T. E. Hagen, state department of agriculture, department of entomology, Arlington, graduate of Texas A. and M. college, and formerly professor of horticulture, North Texas A. and M. college, Arlington, is in Corsicana for a few days, inspecting the shade trees, with particular reference and stress in the curbing of scale diseases which attack shade trees in this section of Texas.

He stated that from external appearances, most of the trees in Corsicana were planted from forest grown trees, which is extremely dangerous to the spreading of diseases unless the forest-grown trees are inspected and treated properly. He said that nursery-grown trees were preferred as they were treated for diseases and scales prior to planting in a maintry of the cases.

they were treated for diseases and scales prior to planting in a majority of the cases.

Mr. Hagen points out a number of scale diseases—particularly scurfy, San Jose and obscure scales—especially hackberry and pin oak. He said that any scale disease on trees was extremely difficult to control once it became established.

He said that forest-grown trees were subject to inspection, but unless they are handled by a capable nurseryman, they might miss the proper inspection and treatment before being planted. He urged the refusal to plant infested trees.

Speaking of shade trees, Mr. Hagen pointed out that the best results with shade trees required fertilizer, pruning and the watering during the dry summer months, and the proper spraying of trees when the pests appear.

Speaking of shade trees, Mr. Hagen pointed out that the best results with shade trees required fertilizer, pruning and the watering during the dry summer months, and the proper spraying of trees when the pests appear.

"What I have seen since arriving in Corsicana is a general spread of scales and insects, and that has been aggravated by the planting of forest-grown trees," Mr. Hagen pointed out.

Among the shade trees recommended for this section included American elm, sycamore, hackberry, native live oak, etc. Chinese elms make excellent shade trees, with rapid growth, and are especially fine when root-rot is absent.

Mr. Hagen suggested that the

Mr. Hagen suggested that the best results in the elimination of scales and other pests which infest shade trees could be secured by a city-wide campaign of spraying, pruning, etc., and the planting of properly inspected trees which would not spread the diseases and insects.

MAYOR OF QUAKER CITY SLEEPS AND EATS WITH JOBLESS when we would not be that the power would not be ed on. A question of overtime pay and working conditions is involved.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 26.—(P)
—In order to get first hand information concerning the manner in which a shelter for homeless men is being conducted, Mayor Harry A Mackey has eaten and slept in the shelter disguised as one of the unemployed.

His makeup was so good he was not even recognized by guards assigned to the executive offices at city hall.

Instead of a modishly attired chief magistrate, he emerged a shambling figure with unkept hair and a set of whiskers. He wore a dotted blue shirt open at the neck, old corduroy coat, baggy trousers, squeaky shoes and a battered felt hat.

He has played three one-night stands at the shelter during the last two weeks and found the food and sleeping accommodations "excellent."

The mayor made these disclosures during a conference with a committee which asked that the city appropriate $9,000,000 for the unemployed and that jobless men be paid $15 a week.

Criticism of conditions at the shelter brought a sharp reply.

Criticism of conditions at the shelter brought a sharp reply.
"Don't you tell me anything about the shelter," the mayor said.
"I go there constantly, mingle with the men and sleep there in disguise. I spend a great deal of my salary there. I take the men music and last week I took them 4,000 cigars and cigarettes."

The shelter is operated by the mayor's committee for unemployment relief.

FORT WORTH, Feb. 26,—(P)—
Baptist missionary an devangelistic leaders of Texas were urged to approach their tasks with renewder for investigation of Marrs. McGregor said that Texas political actions often were animated by jealousies and that he looked with disfavor on legislative investigations.

McGregor declared the law gave Marrs the right to prescribe the charts for state aid schools and that any fault, if any, was in the law. He said Marrs' reputation was above stain and that his acts should be above suspicion.

Holder, however, said the committee, so far, had been working in the candle light and wanted authority of the house to turn on the searchlight to dig to the bottom of the chart incident and others that had been brought to the attention of 'he committee.

Holder asserted Marrs reputation and honesty were unimpeachable but that he wanted the investigation to continue.

MAYOR THOMPSON IS VICTOR LOUD CHICAGO CONTEST

CHICAGO, Feb 25.—(R)—Mayor William Hale Thompson, pastmaster of the spectacular in politics was on top of the political heap in Chicago temporarily at least to-

"gangster nemesis" and other opponents.

When 2.987 precincts had reported unofficially the master showman, who used aviation, talking pictures and each jackass parade to bolster his campaign, had a total of 296,242 votes compared to 228, 401 for Judge Lyle, who had promised the voters he would make things so hot for the gangsters if he was elteed mayor that they would all be glad to get out of town. On the basis of the same tabulation Alderman A. F. Albert had 99,506, G. K. Schmidt, 11,223, and Engene McCaftrey, 913.

These figures gave the man who once said he would "bust King George of England on the snoot" a plurality of 67.841 over Judge Lyle. The latter was silent about the result, but promised a statement ports that a senator had received.

result, but promised a statement later, whereas "Big Bill" was in a happy frame of mind, declaring he won on his principles—"drive internationalism and prohibition out of the republican party."

Still Has Opposition.

Although the 62-year-old bombastic three-term mayor of Chicago rated by some political prophets not so long ago as losing ground in politics, came back with a bang yesterday, there was a possibility that he would face stiff opposition in the April 7 election, with Anton J. Cermak, chairman of the Cook county board, who was sibility that he would face stiff opposition in the April 7 election, with Anton J. Cermak, chairman of the Cook county board, who was mominated by the democrats virtually without opposition. Complete unofficial returns gave Cermak 235,260 against 9,829 for John B. De Voney, his lone opponent.

There was also a rumor rumbling consideration of the tariff bill were directed at him, "it is a contemptible lie". Davis read a prepared statement after taking the stand, He said: "If the clarges which were cord yesterday from a Metropolitical newspaper refer to me, I most emphatically state that I never poblem to anybody in Congress or any one in government service about putting a duty on sugar; that I never received any money or anything of value for any such alleged service.

Voney, his lone opponent. There was also a rumor rumbling There was also a rumor rumbling over the political horizon that Dr. Herman Bundesen, coroner of Cook county and a political power, would get into the April election as an independent candidate, to contest with Thompson and Cermak for the right to sit in the mavor's chair during the world's fair in 1933. Bundesen, however, has kept his own counsel during the tumultunus campaign, but the rumor hung on that he was only awaiting the primary result before announcing his candidacy.

No Major Disorders.

The heat of the primary campaign cooled off into a quiet and peaceful election and although the unofficial republican and demoratic total of 881.374, was a record for a primary, there was not a single disturbance to war the day. There were reports that one election judge had been kidnapped and that another had been threatened and saved by a group of voters, but they were subsequently denied. In addition to the mayorality nominations, the voters selected aldermen in 29 wards, and approved six bond proposals for $37,000,000 worth of municipal improvements.

CARD OF THANKS.

We take this method of expressing our thanks to our many friends for their kindness and sympathy during the illness and death of our husband and father. Especially do we thank Dr. W. O. Founder's Week

The Greatest Food Offering of the Year.

(PERSONAL)

There is always plenty of their own housekeeping, but women who trade in A. & P. Stores find the work of saving on their food bills already done for them.

It is done by an organization that is in the business of keeping food prices low.

The Semi-Weekly Morning Light The Rural Edition of the Daily Sun

IS BIGGER AND BETTER THAN EVER, ENJOYING ALL THE NEWS AND EDU-CATIONAL, INSTRUCTIVE AND INTERESTING FEATURES OF THE DAILY SUN

The Light this year is better than it has ever been, and will continue to get better for it is filling a demand of the intelligent residents of the smaller towns, and rural districts of this section of Central Texas.

The Light is brand new from cover to cover with new faces of type, more news matter from the world, nation, state, county and immediate community.

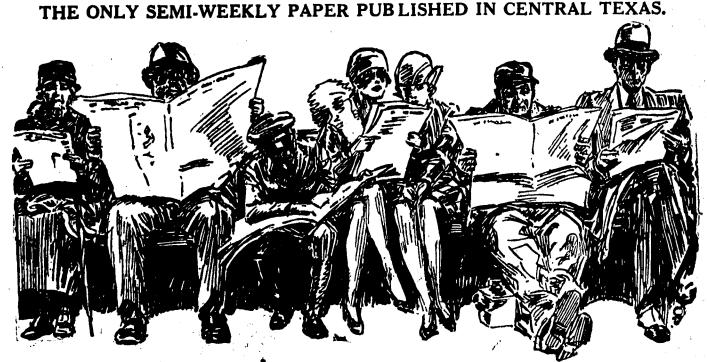

There has also been added a comic page, stock market page; county news page and the money-saving news in the advertisements of a progressive lot of merchants.

Then, too, the print on the Light is as good as new printing presses can give, which makes it easy to read and good for the eyes.

Space will not permit giving in detail all of the many attractive features of the Light.

All that we ask is that you compare the Semi-Weekly Morning Light with any other paper you want and we will leave the matter of which is the best paper to your intelligence.

THE LIGHT IS THE BEST SEMI-WEEKLY NEWSPAPER IN TEXAS TODAY!

REPLIES TO READERS

What Cheer!

What Cheer!

Mrs. J. writes: I am in the merciless clutches of nervous allments, and am having a sad time of it, since I must work to support myself. My stomach is dropped and I have had sick headaches for 30 years. Must this go on?

Answer: Mrs. J.'s picture of the wretchedness of "nerves" is graphic and accurate. But it is all so unnecessary! Nervous invalids drag along at a poor dying rate in spite of the fact that the very abundance of life is theirs to command.

Their lack of vigor is ideogenic rather than physical. They are thinking wrong rather than bearing the burden of actual disease. Their glands of internal secretion are working at half time for want of the proper psychic stimulus, and their autonomic nervous system settles down into a mere jog up on its toes, figuratively speaking.

Sick headache means a lack of tone in the stomach muscles with the blood that should be used at the first sign of headache and should be repeated until the nerves send the right message and the speam the speak until the nerves send the right message and the spaam lets go.

Then with equal persistence such patients as Mrs. J. is to remember she is lucky to have a job, to live in a civilized country and to have a sound body and a good reputation.

William James Harvard's great psychologist and philosopher had Mrs. J.'s autonomic system in mind—or one just like it—when he said: "Square your shoulders, speak in a major key, smile and turn a compliment." You will be surprised, Mrs. J., to see how such conduct will react on your solar plexus.

Do not worry about ptosis, or dropped stomach, for the fact of the matter is that you will hear nothing from it if you give it plenty of good food—milk, 'fruits, vegetables and some protein—and at the same time feed it the tonic of a cheerful spirit. aches for 30 years, Must this go on?

Answer: Mrs. J.'s picture of the wretchedness of "nerves" is graphic and accurate. But it is all so unnecessary! Nervous invalids drag along at a poor dying rate in spite of the fact that the very abundance of life is theirs to command.

Their lack of vigor is ideogenic rather than physical. They are thinking wrong rather than bearing the burden of actual disease. Their glands of internal secretion are working at half time for want of the proper psychic stimulus, and their autonomic nervous system settles down into a mere jog trot of activity instead of being up on its toes, figuratively speaking.

Sick headache means a lack of tone in the stomach muscles with the blood that should be there and in the circulation of the extremities and skin pounding away in spasmodically contracted vessels elsewhere in the body. The head circulation seems to bear the brut of the disturbance, for each beat of the heart sends a wave brunt of the disturbance, for each beat of the heart sends a wave of pain through the head.

Some way or other the autonom is nervous system of which the solar plexus is an important member, must be roused to more efficient action. Some sudden excitement may bring immediate relief, as when one learns that his merchandise ticket has won the prize automobile, or when as physician he assists the new baby to birth; or less happily but equally effec-tive, when he gets the unexpect-ed news that his job has been given to another and his services given to another and his services will be no longer needed.

Since none of these emotional stimuli can be counted on for each headache, I recommend a simpler measure, physical rather than emotional and always at hand. That is to warm up the solar plexus by drinking large quantities of hot water, not hot enough to hurt the stomach lining, but enough to make the subject break into a warm glow. This measure of a cheerful spirit.

Orr, program chairman for the day, called attention to the meaning of the place card at each plate as an indication of the city's hospitality, and expressed the pleasure of the luncheon clubs at being able to have a joint meeting with the Camp Fire leaders of the city to hear the national executive. He pre-sented Mrs. Elbert Williams, president of the council, who in turn introduced the speaker of the Achievements Sketched.

Mrs. Williams briefly sketched some of the achievements of the some of the achievements of the national executive, pointing out his intense interest in both boys and girls, his ability as a writer, as a sportsman, and asserted that his success was due to the fact that he lived among men and was not merely an observer.

In his introductory remarks. In his introductory remarks, Mr. Scott declared that such a gathering of men and women would have been impossible a tew years ago, because the majority of the men and many of the women were afraid of the sadolescent girl. He expressed his satisfaction with the work being satisfaction with the work being done in Corsicana by Camp Fire, and extended his felicitations at a national camp, being located in this city this year.

Anouncing his subject as "The Girl and Her Dad," he briefly sketched the entire scope of the movement. Referring to a recent book on adolescent psychology, he called attention to the authors' he had announced publicly that if he did purchase them he called attention to the authors' he had announced publicly asserted that there would be as screed that there would be as serted that there would be as serted that there would be as close contact between a girl and the father, but added that if boys were in the family they usually received the greater portion of the father's attention, and the girl is overlooked until she has outstrown the opportunities.

sed out, and a girl may have just as many and extensive skills as a brother. A family that is deprived of a father's attention and protection loses something valuable he asserted, declaring that the family is not only the economic unit but is the chief unit of society and government.

In order that any movement be a success, every person involved must care for his or her responsibility, and when one falls down on their part the entire group must suffer. There comes a time, the executive asserted, when a girl is between the age of 10 and 15 years of age when she realizes that she is "father's girl," and if the father is afert to his opportunities, he can be greatly instrumental in guiding the girl's foottier way represented Mr. Hearst. in safeter usually takes great pride in backlage his conductive for the newspapers. father usually takes great pride way represented Mr. Hea in leading his son but is usually content to leave the daughter to He denied also that he had

In the original group that founded Camp Fire, there were more men than women, the speaker pointed out in apparent to the control of the contr More Men Than Women.

Youth usually regards a girl as a nuisance; and feels that a girl should keep her place, but that is impossible because no place has been provided for a girl. Games have been invented, the executive pointed out, that the girl might have an opportunity to develop, and to supply youth of both sexes an escape for stored energy.
